WORDS OF MEDITATION

"Never be afraid to trust an unknown future to a known God."

- Corrie ten Boom

PRACTICE

Write down an example of when someone was authentic. Write down an example of when someone showed you empathy. Lastly, write down an example of when someone was logical with you. Now, reflect on how these three instances overlap and how these descriptions allow for greater trust.

REFLECTION

Exodus 17:1-7

The Israelites arrive at Rephidim exhausted and afraid, finding no water in the wilderness. Their fear quickly turns to complaints against Moses, and they question whether God is truly with them. Rather than abandoning the people because of their doubt, God instructs Moses to strike the rock, and life-giving water flows forth for everyone. This passage reminds us that God's faithfulness does not depend on the perfection of our faith but on God's steadfast love and provision. Even in seasons when we struggle with uncertainty or ask difficult questions, God continues to meet us with grace and enough for the journey. As we remember God's faithfulness in the past, we are invited to rely more deeply on God's presence, believing that the One who has brought us this far will continue to guide and sustain us.

DISCUSSION

1. How do you know if you trust someone?
2. Why is trust so important in a relationship?
Give an example of when your trust was broken.
3. What are the similarities and differences between trust and faith?
4. How does the miracle of bringing water from the rock remind us of who God is to us?
5. Who do you know God to be?
