Happy Birthday

HOPE

by Dr. William Brownson

Is there a hope to bear us up
When troubles bring us low?
Is there a joy to fill our cup
And make it overflow?
Is there a light to show the way
When darkness gathers 'round?
Is there news of a better day—
Is there a joyful sound?

Is there a place of healing rest
From toil and pain and tears?
Is there a peace to calm distress
And banish all our fears?
Is there a love to welcome us
With arms thrown open wide?
Does anyone care what becomes of us—
Is anyone on our side?

Can anyone change the lives we live
And set us free within?
Does anyone have a gift to give
That does away with sin?
Can anyone cure the human strife
That fills the earth with pain?
Can anyone bring abundant life
And make us whole again?

Yes, there's a hope for all the sad
And rest for the weary, too.
Yes, there's a love to keep us glad
And power to make life new.
Yes, there's a Lord who cares for us
Whose will is good and right.
He has a place prepared for us
When dawn shall end the night!

We are expecting!
