Reflection & Discussion

- What are some strongholds that are evident in your life right now?
- What are you looking for in those strongholds that could be found in God? (Ex: If Money is your stronghold you might be looking for security and maybe even getting it but ultimately you need to find security in God's provisions.)
- What are some practical ways you could work against fighting this stronghold?
- How would you go about lovingly confronting someone else's stronghold that they may be blinded to?
- What is the responsibility we have as a church community/small group in confronting one another?
