Youth Worker Update

---

It was great to be back for my second year as 24-7 Youth Worker at One Tree Hill College! During Term 1, I was able to catch up with students that I have been meeting since last year and also start building positive relationships with new ones.

It was great to engage students not just during one-on-one mentoring sessions, but also through other activities like our weekly Boardgames Club and by supporting By the Gate, the Christian club in OTHC. It is always a joy when students interact with me as I walk around the school and go through my day. In term 2, I hope to continue effectively supporting students and be more involved in school activities, especially when the Filipino Club begins running again.

For term 1 my focus was set on building positive relationships with students. This was due to my needing to reconnect with students from last year and new year 9s coming in. I went to the Year 9 orientation at the beginning of term and spent the day with two classes and getting to know some students and teachers. In order to give kids a place to feel heard and supported, I made frequent one-on-one check-ins a priority. Some students felt more at ease when they were brought in pairs this especially helped those who were more reserved to open up. The school also had athletics day this term which gave me the opportunity to get to know more students outside of my usual check ins that I'm still able to chat with during breaks at school to date. Towards the end of this term I met for the first time with some students looking for connection and activities outside of school so going into term two I'll be focusing on integration into out of school activities.

Team leader Update

Term 1 has been a strong and encouraging start to the year. Our youth workers have intentionally focused on building meaningful relationships with students, reconnecting with returning students, and creating safe, supportive spaces for new Year 9s transitioning into high school. The emphasis has been on consistent engagement across a variety of settings within the school. I loved hearing the way they got stuck in, supported students, had fun and helped at Athletics Day. I love the way they so deeply care for the young people at One Tree Hill College. Both youth workers are well-positioned to build on the strong relationships they have established over their time at OTHC.

We are grateful for the continued support from OTHC, Gracecity, Every Nation Auckland City, and the Greenlane Youth Community Trust. The impact of this work is seen in the growing trust, openness, and engagement from students. We are excited to continue building on this in Term 2.
