

Dear _____,

Want to be part of something meaningful this holiday season?

As the holiday season approaches, I've been thinking a lot about the kind of impact we can have — right here in our own community. I attend Commission Church in Rancho Cucamonga, and one of the ways our church serves the community is through something called the Compassion Center — a food pantry that provides free groceries each week to individuals and families in need.

So far this year, the Compassion Center has served over 36,000 people — and the number keeps growing. It's been amazing to see how many lives have been touched, but it also shows how great the need still is. And during the weeks of Christmas and New Year's, when many food banks close, we want to make sure we can stay fully stocked so that no one goes hungry during the holidays.

That's why I'm reaching out. Commission Church is hosting its Year-End Food Drive, and I'd love to invite you to be part of it — either by donating non-perishable food items or by giving financially.

Here's how you can help:

- Donate Food

We're running a food drive to collect non-perishable items. There's a list of items that are needed, and donations can be dropped off at the church between 9:00 am – 3:00 pm on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, or during Sunday morning services. I'd also be happy to transport anything you'd like to contribute before November 30, 2025.

- Give Financially

Every dollar is tax-deductible and a great way for businesses to close out the year with a charitable gift that makes an immediate difference in the lives of people who may otherwise be without food. You can give online at commissionchurches.org/compassion-center, or by mailing a check to: Commission Church, 11376 5th Street Rancho Cucamonga, CA 91730
(Please note "Food Drive" in the memo line.)

This has been such a meaningful part of my life and faith, and I'd love for you to be part of it too. Whether you're able to give a little or a lot, it all adds up — and it all goes directly to families in Rancho Cucamonga, Ontario, Upland, Fontana, and the surrounding areas.

Thanks so much for considering this. Wishing you a joyful and peaceful holiday season!

Gratefully,
