SERMON REVIEW DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

These questions are for after the sermon and can be used for Life Group discussion, one-to-one discipleship, or personal reflection and application.

As we approach Amos 7, we are confronted with a series of visions that the Lord shows the prophet concerning Israel's future destruction. However, the opening section of this chapter (7:1-6) provides a slight shift in tone from everything we have read so far. It provides a glimpse of God's mercy in response to Amos' intercession on behalf of the people.

Discussion Questions

1. Review: Thinking through the book of Amos so far, how would you characterize the nature of Israel's sin and disobedience?
2. Describe the first vision of judgment that Amos is shown in 7:1-2. What makes it so terrifying?
3. What is the nature of the second judgment he is shown in 7:4?
4. After all of the charges that Amos has brought against Israel up to this point, why does he feel the need to intercede for them when God shows him these two visions of destruction?
5. Did Amos change God's mind through his intercession? How are we to think about praying for others in light of God's sovereign will?
6. Read Romans 8:34-39. How does this week's passage in Amos point us to what Christ has done (and continues to do) for us? How might you go about using this text to explain the gospel to a non-believer?
