Online hosts needed

As you likely know, our services are live streamed, and we have many people who attend online each Sunday. In the building we have ushers and greeters to extend our welcome to all who attend; online this role is filled by online worship hosts who greet people in the chat and are available for anyone who has questions. If you attend worship online, whether regularly or occasionally, and would be willing to serve in this way, please contact the church office for more information.
