FROM OUR PASTOR, FATHER AMATO

As you know, I am on the Ask a Priest radio show on the Station of the Cross about twice per month. Of the variety of questions I receive, many have touched on what we call “The Four Last Things.” These “four last things” are Death, Judgment, Heaven, and Hell. That is, these are the things beyond which there is nothing else. In the older theological textbooks, they are simply called De Novissimis (literally: the newest things, or last things).

One specific topic people are interested in is the idea of the Lord coming in glory and the events that immediately precede and follow. What will that look like? There is a view which has become popular in the cultural scene. This view is called “Millenarism.” As the name suggests, it refers to a period of a thousand years. During this one thousand years, which occurs sometime after the present state of the Church, Christ will come and reign on this earth. There are different forms that Millenarism can take, but that is the essence of it. Variations on this belief may include whether the general resurrection occurs before or after this glorious reign; the exact duration of this reign before the Final Judgment at the end of the world; and the bodily experience (physical and spiritual delights) of those who are on this earth during that reign.

The Church teaches that Millenarism, in its essence, must be rejected. Part of the problem is that there is no direct confirmation of this view in Scripture, and the Fathers of the Church, since at least the 5th century, have rejected it. A major problem for the millenarist view would be that Scripture keeps a very close connection between the coming of Christ at the end of time, and the Final Judgment. There is not much of an intervening time that is presented to us. The Millenarist view can come from a misreading of Revelation 20. It would need to posit a Third Coming of Christ since His Second Coming is not one of judgment, but of a universal peaceful rule.

Matthew 25:31-46 is a great example of the connection between the Coming of Christ and the Final Judgment. Another passage is John 5:27-30, which tells us:

“And he gave him power to exercise judgment, because he is the Son of Man. Do not be amazed at this, because the hour is coming in which all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and will come out, those who have done good deeds to the resurrection of life, but those who have done wicked deeds to the resurrection of condemnation. ‘I cannot do anything on my own; I judge as I hear, and my judgment is just, because I do not seek my own will but the will of the one who sent me.’”

While Matthew 16:27 also speaks of Christ coming in glory with His angels, St. Paul’s Second Letter to Timothy confirms: “I charge you in the presence of God and of Christ Jesus, who will judge the living and the dead, and by his appearing and his kingly power” (2 Timothy 4:1). Simply put, Scripture does not leave room for a millenary kingdom between the coming of Christ and the Final Judgment.

As always, there is more that can be said on the topic, but I wanted to give a brief overview in case the Millenarist view is ever presented to you as a fact.

God bless you all and thank you for your continued support and love of our parish!

In Christ, Father Amato

Starting Aug. 17th I will be the Faith Formation Director at St. Benedict's Parish in Canandaigua & Bloomfield. I've been a member of St. Peter's Parish for 25 years & you all have become my extended family. It has been an honor & joy to know & work with every one of you. You will be greatly missed! I am not going too far so you will see me as often as possible. Please pray for me on this new adventure & I will continue to pray for all of you too!*

With love, Sarah Herendeen

JUBILEE 2025

In today's Gospel, Jesus warns about the temptation of greed & encourages good stewardship. Jubilees are an opportunity to share the bountiful harvest with others & build relationships in our lives.

Ponder Point: How do I share the many gifts God has given me to make the world a better place?

USED BOOK DONATIONS

We are collecting used books for a book sale at our Corn Festival in September. You can drop off your book donations at the parish center, east side store room (first door on the left). Thank you!
