Notes

Quotes

"When your values are clear to you, making decisions becomes easier."

- Roy E. Disney (1930-2009)

Haggai's generation prioritized the comforts of their own homes over the house of the Lord. Their problem was much deeper than misaligned priorities. Faced with material scarcity, they put all their efforts into laying up for themselves treasures on earth (Matt. 6:19), and for almost twenty years they had put little effort into enabling God's presence or seeking his pleasure. Instead of serving the Lord, they were serving themselves. The people did what Jesus says not to do: be overcome by anxieties about food and drink and clothing. In Matthew 6:32, Jesus warns us not to be like the "Gentiles [who] seek after all these things" (or like the people in Haggai 1:9, "each rushing to his own house" [AT]) in making comfort and security our first priority. Just as Haggai 1 called that generation to reconsider their ways, so it calls us not to prioritize our own material security (our "treasures here on earth"), but instead to fear the Lord and walk in trust and obedience to his Word. We should "Seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things will be added to you" (Matt. 6:33).

- Michael Stead, "Haggai" vol. VII, ESV Expository Commentary
