

I. PETER PREACHES THE GOSPEL WITH CONFIDENCE (ACTS 2:14-36)

A. The occasion for Peter's sermon (Acts 2:1-13)

1. It was the day of Pentecost, when the Holy Spirit filled the gathered saints so that they spoke in tongues (Acts 2:1-4)

2. The gathered saints were accused of drunkenness (Acts 2:5-13)

B. Peter addresses the accusation and clarifies the situation by appealing to the fulfillment of scripture (Acts 2:14-21)

C. Peter confidently demonstrates the three-fold components of the gospel (Acts 2:22-36)

1. The context of the gospel: the formal setting of the gospel (Acts 2:22-28, 30-31; 1 Corinthians 15:3-4)

2. The content of the gospel: the historical subject matter of the gospel categorized as the life, death, and resurrection of Jesus (Acts 2:23-24, 31-32; 1 Corinthians 15:3-8)

3. The consequence of the gospel: the results that flow from the content of the gospel and all its rich implications (Acts 2:33, 36; 1 Corinthians 15:9-11)

II. PETER CALLS PEOPLE TO RESPOND TO THE GOSPEL WITH FAITH, REPENTANCE AND BAPTISM (ACTS 2:37-41)

A. The people are convicted by what was preached and asked how to respond (Acts 2:37)

B. Peter replies to them that each person should repent and be baptized (Acts 2:38-39)

C. Peter also spoke other words, and the result was 3,000 people believed, repented, and were baptized—they were added to the church (Acts 2:40-41)

SERMON REFLECTIONS

1. What was the occasion of Peter's sermon in Acts 2? Why were the gathered saints being accused of being drunk?

2. After hearing the sermon, what kind of tongues were being spoken? How do you weigh the scriptural evidence for what kind of tongues were spoken?

3. What are the three-fold components of the gospel? How are they different from a response to the gospel?
