WHO IS MY LAZARUS?

By Rev. Mr. Robert T. Grizzell

In today's Gospel from Luke 16:19-31, Jesus gives us the parable of the rich man and Lazarus. What strikes us immediately is that Lazarus, the poor and suffering man, is given a name, while the rich man remains anonymous. In the biblical world, to be named is to have dignity, worth, and identity before God. Lazarus, though overlooked and despised by society, is known and cherished by the Lord. The rich man, despite his wealth and influence, is nameless because he has not lived in a way that reflects God's love. His failure to see and respond to Lazarus at his very doorstep cost him not only relationship with his neighbor but also eternal communion with God.

This parable challenges us to look at the ways we recognize—or fail to recognize—the people God places before us. The poor, the sick, the marginalized, and the forgotten are not invisible to God, and they should not be invisible to us. To live as disciples of Christ means more than avoiding evil; it requires opening our eyes to those in need, extending mercy, and allowing our abundance—whether material, emotional, or spiritual—to become a blessing for others. In Lazarus, Jesus reminds us that God knows each person by name, and He calls us to respond with love, justice, and compassion.

Reflection Questions:

1. Who are the "Lazaruses" in my life right now, and how am I being called to respond to their needs?
2. What does this parable teach me about the true measure of my life and how God sees me?
