Mark Part 2: The Good News

If you've been around church for any period of time, you have probably heard of "the good news". Do you ever struggle to believe that God has good plans for your life? Do you sometimes think that God might not love you? Most of us have times where we wonder if "the good news" is truly that good. The "good news" of His Kingdom isn't just some abstract, distant promise but a tangible, present reality that affects everything—our relationships, our struggles, and our purpose.

In the first 8 chapters of The Gospel of Mark, Jesus moves with urgency – healing the sick, casting out demons, and teaching with unparalleled authority. And everywhere He goes, He announces one central message: "The kingdom of God has come near. Repent and believe the good news!" But Jesus didn't just proclaim this message- He demonstrated it as well. Everywhere Jesus went, He showed people who He is, and how that is good news for all of humanity. Jesus continues to show us over and over the reasons why we would want to follow a man like Him. In "The Gospel of Mark: The Good News," we will explore the radical way Jesus reveals Himself and calls us to respond to the good news of His Kingdom. The good news goes so far beyond salvation – it's an invitation to transform our lives, day in and day out. What good news is Jesus inviting you to believe?

Small Group Guidelines

This is a Safe Group

Confidentiality is key—what is said in the group stays in the group. Be aware of how you are affecting the environment with your words, actions, and non-verbal communication. This needs to be a place where people feel comfortable opening up and sharing.

No Crosstalk

Be considerate of others as they are sharing. No side conversations, phone time, texting etc.

Listen

Let's value one another by listening to what is being shared. Allow a pause after someone shares to allow them to finish and others to consider what was said. Eye contact and body posture play key roles in creating a positive or negative group environment.

No Rescuing or Fixing

We are not here to fix each other; Jesus does that part. Avoid the tendency to rescue when someone is struggling to get the words out or shares a struggle or conviction.

Use "I" Statements

It's easy to talk about the issues of others, or respond with "we," "us," or "the church," but for us to grow as disciples and build relationships, we want to use "I" statements.

Don't Over-Talk

We want to create time for all members of the group to participate in the discussion. Be careful not to always be the first responder or regularly give long responses.

Fight for Relationship

It's not if conflict or hurt feelings will happen, but when. We commit to fight for relationship with each other. Go to the person and share your struggle or seek wise advice if you are not sure how to handle the conflict.

Week 2

Background: Jesus' earthly ministry took off quickly, and His reputation spread rapidly. All over Galilee and Judea, people came to see the man from Nazareth who could heal the sick and teach with authority. But with His growing fame came growing questions: Who is this man, really? Can He be trusted? Is He just another prophet—or something more?

Read: Mark 2:1-12

Discovery Questions:

What do we learn about God in this passage?

What do we learn about what it means to be a follower of Christ in this passage?

What do you think the Holy Spirit might be teaching you personally through this passage?

Is there anything God is leading you to do after reading this passage?

Digging Deeper:

What stands out to you most in this story—Jesus' response, the friends' action, the healing, or something else? Why?

Why do you think Jesus forgives the man's sins before healing him? What does that reveal about Jesus' priorities?

Jesus isn't just another religious option—He is the only one who can forgive sins. How do you respond to that exclusivity? Does it bring comfort, challenge, tension—or something else?

Is there an area of your life where you need to choose faith over doubt right now? What would it look like to ask Jesus to meet you there?

End this time with a prayer.

Heavenly Father, In our limited perspectives, it is so easy for us to lose sight of what is important. We want our temporary problems solved. We want comfort. But You, God, remember what is truly important – the condition of our hearts. Thank You for being a God who not only heals, but also forgives our sins. We need forgiveness, Lord. Thank You for the beautiful redemption we find in Your Son. Give us faith to remember that Jesus is Lord over everything. In Jesus' name, Amen.
