Mark Part 2: The Good News

If you've been around church for any period of time, you have probably heard of "the good news". Do you ever struggle to believe that God has good plans for your life? Do you sometimes think that God might not love you? Most of us have times where we wonder if "the good news" is truly that good. The "good news" of His Kingdom isn't just some abstract, distant promise but a tangible, present reality that affects everything—our relationships, our struggles, and our purpose.

In the first 8 chapters of The Gospel of Mark, Jesus moves with urgency – healing the sick, casting out demons, and teaching with unparalleled authority. And everywhere He goes, He announces one central message: "The kingdom of God has come near. Repent and believe the good news!" But Jesus didn't just proclaim this message- He demonstrated it as well. Everywhere Jesus went, He showed people who He is, and how that is good news for all of humanity. Jesus continues to show us over and over the reasons why we would want to follow a man like Him. In "The Gospel of Mark: The Good News," we will explore the radical way Jesus reveals Himself and calls us to respond to the good news of His Kingdom. The good news goes so far beyond salvation – it's an invitation to transform our lives, day in and day out. What good news is Jesus inviting you to believe?

Small Group Guidelines

This is a Safe Group

Confidentiality is key—what is said in the group stays in the group. Be aware of how you are affecting the environment with your words, actions, and non-verbal communication. This needs to be a place where people feel comfortable opening up and sharing.

No Crosstalk

Be considerate of others as they are sharing. No side conversations, phone time, texting etc.

Listen

Let's value one another by listening to what is being shared. Allow a pause after someone shares to allow them to finish and others to consider what was said. Eye contact and body posture play key roles in creating a positive or negative group environment.

No Rescuing or Fixing

We are not here to fix each other; Jesus does that part. Avoid the tendency to rescue when someone is struggling to get the words out or shares a struggle or conviction.

Use "I" Statements

It's easy to talk about the issues of others, or respond with "we," "us," or "the church," but for us to grow as disciples and build relationships, we want to use "I" statements.

Don't Over-Talk

We want to create time for all members of the group to participate in the discussion. Be careful not to always be the first responder or regularly give long responses.

Fight for Relationship

It's not if conflict or hurt feelings will happen, but when. We commit to fight for relationship with each other. Go to the person and share your struggle or seek wise advice if you are not sure how to handle the conflict.

Background: We all face fear—sometimes suddenly, sometimes constantly. In Mark 6, the disciples are caught in a storm and overwhelmed by fear. But this passage isn't just about the storm—it's about Jesus. It shows us a Savior who sees us, comes to us, and speaks peace into our fear. As we read this story, let's focus on who Jesus is in the middle of the storm—and how His presence changes everything.

Read: Mark 6:45-56

Discovery Questions:

What do we learn about God in this passage?

What do we learn about what it means to be a follower of Christ in this passage?

What do you think the Holy Spirit might be teaching you personally through this passage?

Is there anything God is leading you to do after reading this passage?

Digging Deeper:

What strikes you about the fact that Jesus “saw them” from a distance in the middle of the night? What does this tell us about Jesus' awareness and attentiveness to our struggles?

Why do you think the disciples didn't recognize Jesus at first? What does that reveal about how fear can distort our view of Him?

How does Jesus' healing of the crowds after the storm reinforce what we've just seen about His character?

Based on this passage, how would you describe Jesus to someone who is afraid?

What do you learn about Jesus' heart in the way He sees, comes near, speaks, and stays?

End this time with a prayer.

Heavenly Father, we know that the storms will come. But we don't have to strive, and we don't have to fear. Jesus sees us. He comes to us. He is there. Thank You, Jesus, for Your presence in our storms. You come to us even when we can't see You, even when we don't know how You will reach us. You defy our understanding. Hallelujah, Jesus. You are bigger than I can comprehend. In Jesus' name, Amen.
