The Story

Adam and Eve were the first family.

God walked and talked with them every day.

One day the serpent talked to Eve. Adam and Eve disobeyed God.

They realized they were naked and hid from God.

Because of their sin, God drove them out of the garden and into the wilderness where they would die and return to dust.

Connecting the Dots

The story of the Fall in Genesis 3 possesses a multi-directional rebellion. There is the rebellion from the spirit realm with the serpent and there is the rebellion of mankind with the disobedience of Adam and Eve. The heavens and the earth are thrown into the cursed condition. But no sooner than sin has broken the world, God promises to send a savior, born of a woman. At the end of the Bible Jesus, the God-man, promises to undo the curse and deliver a new heavens and a new earth.
