Connecting the Dots

Acts 2:42-47 describes the spiritual growth of the church after Pentecost and the physical growth that followed. The church was growing in the faith as the apostles taught them the Word and they studied the Scriptures. They shared life together in fellowship encouraging one another. They prayed together. For them, prayer was not an add on, but they devoted themselves to corporate prayer and dependence on the Lord. They worshipped and the Lord's Supper was an expression of the worship. The church body lovingly and sacrificially gave to meet the needs of others in the Bible. In glad hospitality they ate together from house to house. As a result of their spiritual growth, the Lord added to the church daily those who were being saved.
