

FRIEND OF GOD

WEEK 5

1. Many of us live in an "as soon as" state, waiting for external circumstances to change before we feel we can move forward. In what areas of your life are you currently waiting for a change, and how can you shift your perspective to trust God in the midst of the wait?
2. Dr. Galloway suggests that while faith is essential, sometimes God moves simply because of His compassion, even when our own faith is lacking. How does this shift your understanding of how God interacts with us during our most broken or desperate seasons?
3. When Jesus asks, "Do you want to get well?," He implies that healing comes with the responsibility of living a new life. What are some of the "mats" or old patterns of living that we sometimes hold onto because they have become part of our identity?
4. While we may feel there is "no man to help" us, we are called to be the ones who help others reach the water. How can we intentionally cultivate a community where we support one another's breakthroughs, even when someone is too discouraged to believe for themselves?
