1 Corinthians 13:4-7

If you desire something, ask for it.

Be assertive, not critical.

Connection requires actively listening, not waiting to respond with fire.

Focus on the positive attributes, and build each other up.

Avoid the blame game and cooperatively find a solution.

Reflection: Are there any relationships where a connection is strained, and not giving my full attention that it deserves?

Challenge: Choose someone important to you, and have a conversation every day, practicing active listening with them.
