

Support Letters

It is my hope and prayer that these letters will help you as you raise support for Summer Camp. At times, raising the finances needed to attend camp can feel overwhelming or intimidating, but I want to encourage you to walk by faith, not by fear. God is our provider, and He is able to make a way for you.

As you reach out to family and/or friends, remember that this is about more than simply asking for financial support. It is about inviting others to partner with what God wants to do in your life through camp. Summer Camp is a powerful opportunity to grow in your relationship with Jesus, build meaningful friendships, and step away from everyday distractions to encounter God in a fresh way.

Below, you will find four approaches that you can use when reaching out to family members or friends through a letter, email, or text message, along with a chart to help you choose which approach may be most effective for each person. My prayer is that these tools would give you confidence, clarity, and faith as you take this step.

Love,

Pastor James Sanchez II
