Please continue to pray for our school nurse's nephew. Prayer Warriors: Today is a BIG day for Liam and thousands of prayers are encouraged and helpful. His shunt placement surgery is scheduled for this morning to help with regulating his cerebrospinal fluid (CSF). This surgery is a BIG deal in many ways and he needs BIG prayers! Regulating his CSF is helpful for reducing swelling/inflammation and in turn, help him fight his infection, keep him as safe as possible, and move forward towards his next goal.
Please pray hard this morning for Liam, his pediatric neurosurgeon, his full medical team and his family. Thank you.

Kay Miller

Madi who is 4 years old, she has terminal brain cancer. She had to be taken off all meds because side effects were too much for her. Last night she was admitted to Iowa City.

Prayer Requests - General

She will have MRI today to see if shunt is blocked and if the tumor has grown. Asking for God's will to be done, for strength both for Madi and family, for comfort and for healing and that Madi not suffer.

Lord let your will be done. Watch over this family. Bring them in closer to you, believing in you, trusting you.

Embrace them Lord Amen

Here's a prayer request from our school nurse, Becky.

Prayer Requests -
General

My nephew is literally fighting for his life and truly needs a miracle. Today is a big day for him so as many prayers as possible are needed and appreciated. His name is Liam Lause and he is a 5th grade student at Greenwood Elementary School. His older brothers attend Roosevelt.

He started not feeling well last week with similar symptoms as many of our other students who are out of school with symptoms of illness. He was taken to Blank on 12/13/22 and a very aggressive brain tumor (Diffuse Midline Glioma) was found. He was able to walk when admitted to Blank on the 13th and has already lost that ability to do so, can no longer verbally communicate and many other things this tumor has taken from him. He was life flighted to U of I on 12/14/22 from Blank and brain surgery may be possible. They will know more after today's MRI.

Here's the Caring Bridge Site that I made for Liam for updates on his fight as well as ways to help:
<https://www.caringbridge.org/visit/loveforliam3>

He is now intubated due to increased cranial pressure and also to prepare for his very long MRI. Please pray for a miracle.

Thanks!
