Erin Grove

So sudden downturn, but we got a call from Joshua's dad's (Mark Grove) doctor. He's been in the hospital since his heart surgery in August, and has had a blood infection for a while that they've been working on healing. It recently developed into a yeast infection, too, and they've warned us that he might be too weak to fight it. Today might be the day. We're going to go visit him today to probably say goodbye. Prayer for Joshua and Lily right now would be appreciated. It looks like he will to spend Christmas with Stevie instead of us this year.

This is rough for Joshua right now, so if you see us and would like to share your support in person, please talk to Erin about it instead of Joshua.
